

The Eternal Escrow, Ephesians 1:3–4

D. Addendum: The Eternal Escrow Deposit

Ephesians 1:3 - Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Who [as Grantor] has blessed us [the grantees] with every spiritual blessing [the deposit: escrow blessings for time and eternity] in the heavenly places [the cache or the depository] in Christ [the escrow Officer, or Depositary, or the One with guard duty],

Ephesians 1:4 - just as He chose us in Him [election: the 4th elective decree in the Infralapsarian order] before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and blameless before Him.

The eternal escrow deposits were created in heaven before the creation of the world. This eternal escrow is divided into two paragraphs—one designed for conveyance in time, the other for conveyance in eternity.

Each escrow paragraph is assigned an initial cache. Subsequent transfer of the content to secondary caches is determined by the volitional decisions of the grantee in time. Those who fulfill the plan of God in time by advancing to Santa Fé will receive the conveyance of their escrow blessings in time. The initial cache is heaven and the escrow's contents, or deposit, is under the protection of Jesus Christ as escrow Officer.

Although all believers have an escrow account in the heavenly cache, under the protection of Jesus Christ who has guard duty as escrow Officer, only a few will ever receive the conveyance of its contents. Fulfillment of the conditions of the escrow are required before conveyance may be executed and fulfillment demands that the believer advance to spiritual maturity in time.

The grace of God has imputed a portfolio of invisible assets which enables the believer to make the required trip to Santa Fé. Most believers will fail to utilize these assets and thus will arrive at the Judgment Seat of Christ as losers.

Conveyance of the second paragraph of the escrow deposit is contingent upon whether the believer qualifies for the conveyance of the first paragraph during his physical life.

When one arrives in Santa Fé then Jesus Christ recognizes that the conditions of the escrow's first paragraph have been fulfilled. As escrow Officer, He is authorized to transfer the deposit in the heavenly cache to the life of the victorious believer. The believer therefore becomes the secondary cache into which the eternal escrow is deposited by Christ.

As the indwelling Shekinah Glory, Christ continues to perform guard duty over the escrow deposit. The very conveyance of the first paragraph enables the Lord to transfer the second paragraph of the deposit during the Nike Award ceremonies of the Judgment Seat of Christ.

The content of the second paragraph is the seven Nike Awards, consisting of 13 paragraphs, disclosed by Jesus Christ to the Apostle John in Revelation 2–3.

Those who do not arrive in Santa Fé will be considered losers. Not fulfilling the condition of the escrow, both paragraphs will remain on deposit forever.
